

Roy and Nicole

Wayne County

A purposeful life

Roy and Nicole are parents who foster and adopt.

While in the process of adoption, they also took placement of three foster children whose case plan had the goal of reunification. Roy and Nicole immediately made changes to their home and lifestyle to accommodate the three children, in order to make them feel more safe and secure. They always exhibit understanding and inclusion for all children and show this by taking family photos so the children in their care feel like they are a part of the family.

The family's worker shared that Roy and Nicole certainly deserve recognition for the wonderful foster and adoptive family that they are, "They are an amazing example of unconditional love, meeting a child where they are and being accepting of each child individually as being great just for who they are."
